

Performances

Selin Wutzler, Felix Leon Westner,
Lena Grossmann, Nazanin Noori

June 11 - August 14, 2021

EIGEN + ART LAB PERFORMANCES

SELIN WUTZLER
11.6 - 20.6

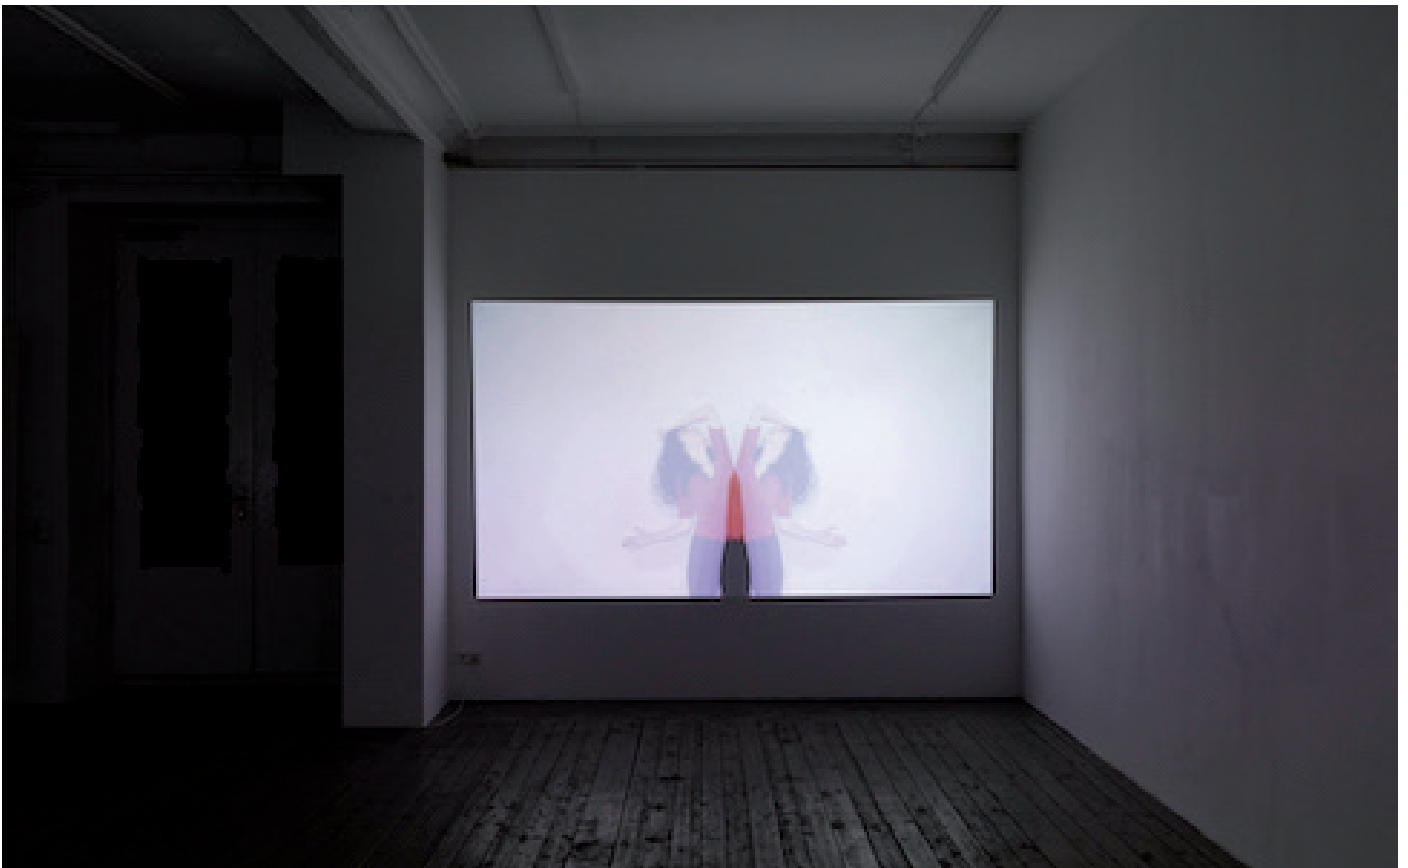

FELIX LEON WESTNER
25.6 - 10.7

LENA GROSSMANN
16.7 - 24.7

NAZANIN NOORI
30.7 - 14.8

Selin Wutzler (*1990) is an interdisciplinary artist. Her work includes performances, theater, music and film. From 2015-2019 she studied performing arts management at Istanbul Bilgi University. She lives in Dresden, where she has been studying at the Akademie der bildenden Künste since 2019, where she mainly focuses on the topics of body, identity and time.

Exhibition view: Selin Wutzler, Process, 2021

Performance, Selin Wutzler, 2021

Felix Leon Westner (*1983) is a Berlin based performance artist, working mainly in the field of sound performance, drawing and installation. He studied fine arts at the AdBK Munich, where he graduated in 2014. Felix Leon Westner's practice is combining pop and poetry with rave and analytical reflections. In terms of content, he orientates himself on traces of sociological and media-psychological theories, which he questions and relates to his own biography, historical events or everyday and perceptual phenomena.

Exhibition view: Felix Leon Westner, I killed some parts for what they did - FANTASY RAP, 2021

Performance, Felix Leon Westner, 2021

Lena Grossmann (*1991) is a visual artist and choreographer (studies at AdBK München at Prof. Olaf Nicolai and studies in music composition (MA) at ZHdK Zurich with Prof. Isabel Mundry.) Based on analytic and practical observations of motion-sequences within dance, she compiles a spectrum of possibilities to approach the relationship of body and space through her artistic practice. She develops formats from various elements of choreography, stage setting, notation, composition and sculpture. Extending her interdisciplinary thinking, Lena Grossmann keeps developing a movement-related system of notation that depicts the references between space and body.

Exhibition view: Lena Grossmann, X ways through organised space, 2021

Exhibition view: Lena Grossmann, X ways through organised space, 2021

Nazanin Noori (*1991) is an Iranian artist living and working in Berlin, Germany. Her interdisciplinary work includes music, theater and radio play direction and text. Nazanin Noori makes the fusion of sound, space, sculpture and postdramatic poetry her subject of discussion, focussing on atmospheric narratives. She studied theater, film and media sciences at Goethe University in Frankfurt and worked at Deutsches Theater, Schauspiel Frankfurt and Schauspiel Hannover. She hosts ‚POMP‘ on Malmö-based Retreat Radio, as well as ‚Ambient Hardcore‘ on Berlin-based Refuge Worldwide. Nazanin Noori is an artist-in-residence at the Jungen Akademie der Künste in Berlin.

AMBIENT ROOM

Nazanin Noori, Ambient Room, 2021, EIGEN + ART Lab